

Magazines and Journals at Bromley House Library

We subscribe to a vast array of magazines and journals at Bromley House – from science writing to travel, current affairs to local history, you will always find something to interest and inspire.

All magazines can be read in the library. Some of the local history journals may be loanable - please speak to staff for more information.

At the end of each year we hold a blind auction for a delayed subscription to many of the popular magazines - if you win, you will receive each back issue as it is replaced at the library. Look out for updates on this towards the end of the year.

Daily papers—Monday to Saturday

The Guardian

The i

The Telegraph

The Times

The Nottingham Post (Monday to Friday only)

We also buy the Financial Times weekly, on a Saturday. Saturday supplements for all newspapers are kept for the following week.

Weekly magazines

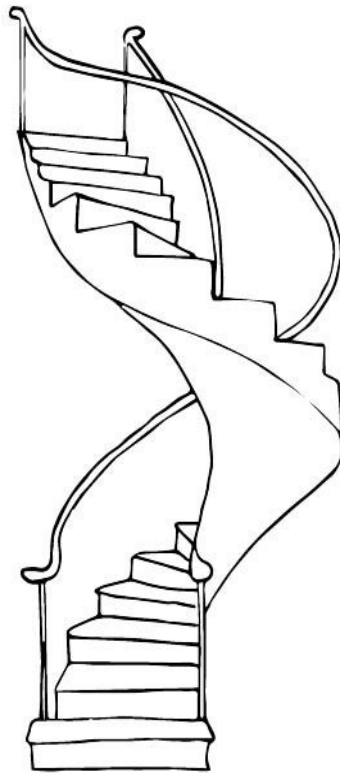

Country Life
The Economist
The New Scientist
The New Statesman
The Spectator
The Week
The TLS
The New European

Free publications

The Left Lion
Booktime
Free copies available to pick up from the library on occasion.

Fortnightly magazines

London Review of Books
New York Review of Books
Private Eye

Monthly magazines

Apollo
BBC Wildlife
Elle Decoration
Gardener's World
Gardens Illustrated
Good Housekeeping
History Today
The Idler (six issues a year)
The Literary Review*
National Geographic
The Oldie
Prospect
Sight and Sound
Wanderlust (six issues a year)
Which? Magazine*
Woman and Home
Writing Magazine

Society journals

Byron Journal (new for 2024)
Georgian Group Journal*
Georgian Group Magazine
Nottinghamshire Historian*
Poetry Book Society
Thoroton Society Newsletter*
Thoroton Society Records Series*
Thoroton Society Transactions*

Historic publications – no longer updated

Punch Magazine, bound back issues from 1841 – 1945
Nottinghamshire Family History Records Series
Nottinghamshire Historian (1976 – 2017)
East Midlands History and Heritage (June 2015—February 2020)
Midlands History (2015-2021)
Centenary News (1994 – 1998)

Back issues - we retain the back issues of some magazines. Which? And Literary Review magazines are kept for one year after publication. The Georgian Group Journal is kept for three years. The Nottinghamshire Historian and Thoroton Society publications are accessioned into the collection and retained indefinitely. We review our journals, newspaper and magazines annually—monitoring their use to help inform future buying.